

Bula!

On behalf of the team at Naisoso Island and Relcorp Fiji, I would like to present you with the very first edition of "Tidings", the brand new Naisoso newsletter. This is the first of many glad tidings we will bring you over the next few months and I trust you enjoy reading all about Fiji's most exclusive new private island resort that is all so...so...exciting.

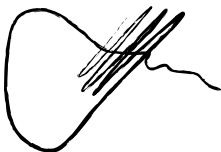

"Tidings" will keep you up to date with all the progress that is taking place here, however I strongly advise you not to 'wait and see what happens' before you act...if you haven't already that is. If you have already purchased a 100% freehold homesite, be it a beachfront, riverfront or lifestyle lot, congratulations – you are obviously a very astute investor.

If you are still contemplating your decision, may I remind you that the sooner you invest in this exclusive island lifestyle with its 5-star resort amenities, the more capital growth you can logically expect. Remember, identifying an investment 'hot spot' is all about choosing one that will take off next, as opposed to one that is doing well now or has performed well in the past such as nearby Denarau.

Finally, forget the great investment potential for a moment and just think about the kudos involved in owning a piece of this luxurious island resort paradise that is so...so...precious. I guarantee you, you'll be the envy of all your friends.

Enjoy reading "Tidings" and if there is anything else you would like to know – anything at all – please don't hesitate to contact us.

Yours sincerely,

Bob Lowres
Managing Director
